Teachers Entertained.

On Friday of last week the members of the Hondo School Faculty were asked to continue their revelry of the previous two weeks at the home of Professor and Mrs. Peterson. Those who have been in the home of the host and hostess and know of their true hospitality can well imagine what a fitting climax this occasion served to the teacher's holidays.

By eight o'clock the pedagogues and school-marmes had cast aside their caps, spectacles and other such articles to which any unpleasant association might be attached, and were refreshing their fagged brains with the witty remarks and pleasant discussions of the evening.

Professor Peterson carrying out his principle, "twenty-four hours a day for the entire faculty," presented each teacher with a "quiz" on English and American Literature. After each teacher had demonstrated how much book lore she had forgotten, she engaged in that popular and highly entertaining game, "forty-two." They were so deeply absorbed in this past time that only sights of the incoming refreshments in the adjoining room could lure them away.

Among those present were: Misses: Salete Darden, embroidered net over charmeuse-pears; Ruby Locklin, green chiffon over brocaded satin-diamonds; Myrtle Parsons, pink poi de soie over taffeta; Ethel Saunders, blue crepe de chine-turquoise; Lena Stone, black brocaded satin with jet trimmings; Stella Stone, lavender charmeuse-pears; Amanda Smith, white satin with silver passementerie; Mrs. Peterson, lavender poi de soie-real lace; Mant Varborough, flowered muslin-orchids; Mr. Rufus Ransom, frock tail suit; Prof. Peterson, full evening dress; Prof. Peters, full evening dress.

"The Prodigal Son."

The same company of clever people who have been associated with Oscar Graham's attractions for the past five years will be with us again Thursday, Jan. 21st, in Mr. Graham's latest comedy-drama "The Prodigal Son."

There are plays and plays, actors and actors, the same as in everything else and one has to discriminate; but one always feels safe in exchanging some of his hard earned (or otherwise) zanana for seat to "rear back and take in" an Oscar Graham production, for the odds are mighty long that one is going to get one's money's worth and come away well satisfied.

In the southwest Oscar Graham's name has for several years stood for all that is good, clean and moral. Never yet have we heard one of his characters voice anything that even bordered on profanity. Never have we heard a line spoken nor viewed a situation that wasn't in accord with clean wholesome thought, and yet every play presented year after year as seemed with interest, holding our deepest attention and drawing largely upon our sense of humor. Clever people with high ideals are the Grangers and their associates. Yes, it's dollars to doughnuts that they will entertain us "right" and give us "something to take home with us" when they come here in "The Prodigal Son," Next Thursday, Jan. 21st.

Yancey News.

The Yancey people are beginning the New Year, 1915, in the right way. All are very busy plowing and getting the soil ready for the spring planting. The farmers of this community are going to be wise by planting more seed stuff and less cotton.

The Yancey Mercantile has been sold to Mr. Oefinger & Son of New Braunfels. Mr. Oefinger will move his family to Yancey in a few weeks.

The High School pupils of the Yancey school will play "Tony The Conict" next Friday night, Jan. 15th.

The teachers have returned to their places in school. The pupils are doing good work and attendance is good.

The 1915 Boy.
"I will not put pins in my dear teacher's chair." (Tacks will hurt just as much, anyway.)

"I will not quarrel and fight with my big brothers in 1915." (What have I got a little brother for?)

"I will not play hookey from school to go fishing or swimming." (That is in the winter time.)

"I will be a regular attendant at Sunday school." (At Christmas time and just before the summer excursion, of course.)

"I will not take mother's currant jelly from the pantry without permission." (Her raspberry jam is good enough for me.)

"I will be kind to dumb animals, such as tigers, lions and elephants." (Stray cats and dogs, however, had better keep out of it's neighborhood.)

"I will not (Oh, gee, that's enough. They say the good die young, and I want to live until I catch that red-headed boy on the next block who stuck his tongue out at me yesterday!)

Dangers of a Cold.

Do you know that of all the minor ailments colds are by far the most dangerous? It is not the colds themselves that you need to fear, but the serious diseases that they so often lead to. For that reason every cold should be gotten rid of with the least possible delay. To accomplish this you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy of great help to you. It loosens a cold, relieves the lungs, aids expectoration and enables the system to throw off the cold. For sale by All Dealers.

You can save a lot of fuel and time if you put a pinch of soda in your vegetables and meat when boiling. You will be surprised to find how tender they will be in half the usual time.

Cough Medicine for Children.

Never give a child a cough medicine that contains opium in any form. When opium is given other and more serious diseases may follow. Long experience has demonstrated that there is no better or safer medicine for coughs, colds and croup in children than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is equally valuable for adults. Try it. It contains no opium or other harmful drug. For sale by All Dealers.

Some folks leave their job of darn-ing socks till it is like knitting a stocking around a big hole. Keep the little holes closed. It is the way to health, wealth and happiness.

Fever Sores.

Fever sores and old chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Salve. This salve has no superior for this purpose. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by All Dealers.

Try thickening an Irish stew with oil of oysters. Add a cupful, more or less, about an hour before serving. It gives the stew a rich flavor and helps it gravy. K.

To prevent pneumonia, a cold settled in the lungs should be attended to at once. Put a Horner's Red Pepper Porous Plaster on the chest and take Ballard's Horehound Syrup internally. It's a winning combination. Buy the dollar size Horehound Syrup; you get a porous plaster free with each bottle. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

"I make my living by walking and talking," says the boot agent. "If that's so, said he to him, "please to your wife to give a dollar to me to some other fellow."

If your stomach feels uncomfortable from overeating, or from food which disagrees with you, take Herbine; it settles the stomach, strengthens the digestion and relaxes the bowels. Price 50c. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

A metal shoe horn, such as are given away at many shoe stores, makes an excellent article for scraping iron pots and kettles wherein food has been burned.

Only One "BROMO QUININE"

To get the full name, LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. GROVE. Cures a Cold in One Day, Stopps Cough and headache, and works off cold. 25c.

Instead of trying sausage that is stuffed in skins, bake it. Wash it, prick the skins, put it in a pan and cook it in a hot oven.

Cures Old Sores, Other Remedies Won't Cure. The worst cases, no matter of how long standing, are cured by the wonderful, old reliable Dr. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil. It relieves Pain and Heals at the same time. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Fill up the water pail the last thing you do at night. Some may be wanted before morning. Never can tell; good plan, anyhow.

As fellow creatures in a troublous world,

What should we pray?
To make ourselves more human and help make

The world that way.

They All Demand It.

Hondo, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but not permanently. Doan's Kidney Pills have brought lasting results to thousands. Here is proof of merit from this vicinity.

Floyd Trim, Box 24, Big Wells, Texas, says: "I suffered from soreness in my back just over my kidneys and at times lameness set in. Different remedies were suggested to me and I tried them, but no benefit followed. I had often read statements given by people who had used Doan's Kidney Pills with benefit, and I was finally led to take them. The first box gave me so much relief that I continued to use them until cured."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Trim had. Foster Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Griddle cakes are the housekeeper's first recourse when the milk sours. Mix two cupfuls of bread-crums with a cupful of flour or corn-meal, sifted with a half-teaspoon of baking-soda and a little salt. Add sour milk to make a thin batter, and a well-beaten egg. Bake at once on a hot, greased griddle.

Biliousness and Constipation Cured.

If you are ever troubled with biliousness or constipation you will be interested in the statement of R. F. Erwin, Peru, Ind. "A year ago last winter I had an attack of indigestion known as biliousness and constipation. Seeing Chamberlain's Tablets so highly recommended, I bought a bottle of them and they helped me right away." For sale by All Dealers.

Did you ever try a potato omelette? Take one cupful of mashed potatoes, one cupful of sweet milk and two eggs beaten separately until very light, add a little salt and a little flour. Mix and beat all together and fry in butter until brown. I often add a chopped parsley. M.

Excellent for Stomach Trouble.

"Chamberlain's Tablets are just fine for stomach trouble," writes Mrs. G. C. Dunn, Arnolds, Pa. "I was bothered with this complaint for some time and frequently had bilious attacks. Chamberlain's Tablets afforded me great relief from the first, and since taking one bottle of them I feel like a different person." For sale by All Dealers.

There are a few mothers who still believe that if you give every child what it deserves, none will escape spanking. But there are others who find that a whispered word, with a hug and a loving kiss, is often a gentler, better way to keep these restless little ones in order.

Pleurisy pains are located just below the short ribs. Lumboago affects the same region but toward the back. Banano's Snow Liniment is the remedy in either case. If rubbed in thoroughly it eases pain, relaxes the muscles and the patient can move about freely and comfortably. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

When the stove gets to smoking and doesn't stop, it is time to clean out the top and under the oven. Maybe the elbow that goes into the chimney needs a bit of attention, too. It saves wood and temper to keep the stove clean all the time.

If you don't sleep well at night, are nervous and low-spirited, you need a system purifier. Herbine is a powerful liver stimulant and cleansing medicine. It quietes the nerves, promotes energy and cheerfulness. Price 50c and by W. H. Windrow.

If you cure hams and shoulders in pickle instead of dry curing them, place them in the barrel on end with the other pieces around them. The pickle can reach all parts better than if they are laid flat.

In every home where there are children there should be a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge. It destroys worms and acts as a tonic in the debilitated system. Price 25c per bottle. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

CONSUMPTION TAKES 350 PEOPLE DAILY

Over 350 people succumb to consumption every day in the United States.

Science proves that the germs only thrive when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists.

The best physicians point out that during changing seasons the blood should be made rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals. The cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood; it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and throat, while it builds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

It would you indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known. It is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug. Avoid substitutes.

NATION'S LABOR PROBLEM

Over a million and a Half Women Work as Farm Hands in the United States.

By Peter Radford
Editor National Farmers' Union.

Our government never faced so tremendous a problem as that now lying dormant at the doors of Congress and the legislatures, and which, when aroused, will shake this nation from center to circumference, and make civilization hide its face in shame. That problem is—women in the field.

The last Federal census reports show we now have 1,514,000 women working in the field, most of them south of the Mason and Dixon line. There were approximately a million negro slaves working in the fields when liberated by the emancipation proclamation.

We have freed our slaves and our women have taken their places in bondage. We have broken the shackles off the negroes and welded them upon our daughters.

The Chain-Gang of Civilization.

A million women in bondage in the southern fields form the chain-gang of civilization—the industrial tragedy of the age. There is no overseer quite so cruel as that of unrestrained greed, no whip that stings like the lash of suborned destiny, and no auctioneer's block quite so revolting as that of organized avarice.

The president of the United States was recently lauded by the press, and very properly so, for suggesting mediation between the engineers and railroad managers in adjusting their schedule of time and pay. The engineers threatened to strike if their wages were not increased from approximately ten to eleven dollars per day and service reduced from ten to eight hours and a similar readjustment of the overtime schedule. Our women are working in the field, many of them barefooted, for less than 50 cents per day, and their schedule is the rising sun and the evening star, and after the day's work is over they milk the cows, slop the hogs and rock the baby to sleep. Is anyone mediating over their problems, and to whom shall they threaten a strike?

Congress has listened approvingly to those who toil at the forge and behind the counter, and many of our statesmen have smiled at the threats and have fanned the flame of unrest among industrial laborers. But women are as surely the final victims of industrial warfare as they are the burden-bearers in the war between nations, and those who arbitrate and mediate the differences between capital and labor should not forget that when the expenses of any industry are unnecessarily increased, society foots the bill by drafting a new consignment of women from the home to the field.

Pinch No Crumb From Women's Crust of Bread.

No financial award can be made without some one footing the bill, and we commend to those who accept the responsibility of the distribution of industrial justice the still small voice of the woman in the field as she pleads for mercy, and we beg that they pinch no crumb from her crust of bread or put another patch upon her ragged garments.

We beg that they listen to the scream of horror from the eagle on every American dollar that is wrung from the brow of toiling women and hear the Goddess of Justice hiss at a verdict that increases the want of woman to satisfy the greed of man.

The women behind the counter and in the factory cry aloud for sympathy and the press thunders out in their defense and the pulpit pleads for mercy, but how about the woman in the field? Will not these powerful exponents of human rights turn their talent, energy and influence to her relief? Will the Goddess of Liberty enthroned at Washington hold the calloused hand and soothe the feverish brow of her sex who sows and reaps the nation's harvest or will she permit the male of the species to shoo women—weak and weary—from the bread-line of industry to the back alleys of poverty?

Women and Children First.

The census enumerators tell us that of the 1,514,000 women who work in the fields as farm hands 400,000 are sixteen years of age and under. What is the final destiny of a nation whose future mothers spend their girlhood days behind the plow, pitching hay and hauling manure, and what is to become of womanly culture and refinement that grace the home, charm society and entice man to leap to glory in noble achievements if our daughters are raised in the society of the ox and the companionship of the plow?

In that strata between the ages of sixteen and forty-five are 950,000 women working as farm hands and many of them with suckling babes tugging at their breast, as drenched in perspiration, they wield the scythe and guide the plow. What is to become of that nation where poverty breaks the crowns of the queens of the home; despair hurls a mother's love from its throne and hunger drives innocent children from the schoolroom to the hoe?

The census bureau shows that 155,000 of these women are forty-five years of age and over. There is no more pitiful sight in civilization than these saintly mothers of Israel stooped with age, drudging in the field from sun until sun and at night drenching their dingy pillows with the tears of despair as their aching hearts take it all to God in prayer. Civilization strikes them a blow when it should give them a crown, and their only friend is He who broke bread with beggars and said: "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest."

Texas, the home of Sam Houston and the adopted land of David Crockett! The Lone Star State! —baptized in the blood of martyrs and paid for by the lives of sainted heroes who, with the sword and the cross, slayed tyranny and conquered evil! Our Southland! the world's custodian of chivalry, the champion of human rights and the defender of the oppressed,—shall we permit our maidens fair to be torn from the hearthstone by the ruthless hand of destiny and chained to the plow? Shall we permit our faithful wives whom we covenanted with God to cherish and protect, to be hurled from the home to the harvest field and our mothers dear to be driven from the old arm chair to the cotton patch?

In rescuing our citizens from the forces of civilization can we not apply to our fair Dixie land the rule of the sea—women and children first? There must be a readjustment of the wage scale of industry so that the woman can be taken from the field or given a reasonable wage for her services. Perhaps the issue has never been fairly raised but the Farmers' Union, with a membership of ten millions, puts its organized forces squarely behind the issue and we now enter upon the docket of civilization the case of "The Woman in the Field" and demand an immediate trial.

Congress has listened approvingly to those who toil at the forge and behind the counter, and many of our statesmen have smiled at the threats and have fanned the flame of unrest among industrial laborers. But women are as surely the final victims of industrial warfare as they are the burden-bearers in the war between nations, and those who arbitrate and mediate the differences between capital and labor should not forget that when the expenses of any industry are unnecessarily increased, society foots the bill by drafting a new consignment of women from the home to the field.

Old men have visions, young men have dreams. Successful farmers plow deep while sluggards sleep.

Whatever change the tenant farmer makes, it is bound to be for the better—it couldn't be for the worse.

Making Balance Even.

A chimney sweep's boy went into a baker's shop for a two-penny loaf, and conceiving it to be small remarked to the baker that he did not believe it was weight. "Never mind that," said the man of dough. "You will have the less to carry." "True," replied the lad, and throwing three half-pence on the counter left the shop the baker called after him that he had not left enough money. "Never mind that," said young scoty, "you will have the less to count."

Stomach Overworked.
Eating between meals is a habit usually left over from childhood. Growing things need nourishing in small and frequent doses. Grow-ups merely require to repair the waste of the body—and the stomach is a comparatively small organ. Undoubtedly in many bodies it is kept stretched and in the same condition of an abused piece of rubber. How can it do its work?

Made My Life Worth Living

"I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me," writes Mrs. L. Dunlap, of Oak Grove, Mich. "I have suffered with pains in my back and under my shoulder blade for a number of years, also with a poor appetite and constipation. I tried all of the remedies that I heard of, and a number of doctors, but got no relief. Finally a friend told me to try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I got a bottle of them and they soon helped my stomach; by their gentle action my bowels became more regular. Today I feel like praising them to all who suffer as I did for me and made my life worth living."

Oscar Graham Coming.

Oscar Graham's newest play "The Prodigal Son" promises to be even better than previous presentations and that is saying a good deal. It would be difficult to go into detail as to the plot, motive or incentive of the play for the reason that there is really so much to it. The plot is complex, to say the least and yet there is nothing overdone nor does it deviate a particle from certain every day happenings. Surprise follows surprise in regard to the wonderful missing ruby and finally the epilogue brings a greater surprise than ever.

Mr. Graham has taken great pains to make this the best production of his career, having visited Chicago, New York and Boston the past summer gathering material for costuming, settings and many other necessary details. Loretta Graham brought back some more than ordinary beautiful gowns and one in particular is a marvel of the Fifth Avenue dressmakers' art. Mr. Paulus, Mr. Wascher, Mr. Gray and Mr. Read have been with this organization for so many years and give distinction to their parts by their usual forceful acting and faultless costuming, in fact the entire company is seen at its best.

"The Prodigal Son" will be seen at The Auditorium January 21st.

God of the Open Air

These are the things I prize
And hold of dearest worth;
Light of the sapphire skies,
Peace of the silent hills,
Shelter of forests, comfort of the grass,
Music of birds, murmur of little rills,
Shadow of clouds that swiftly pass,
And after showers,
The smell of flowers
And of the good, brown earth—
And best of all, along the way, friendship and mirth,
So let me keep
These treasures of the humble heart
In true possession, owning them by love;

And when at last I can no longer
move
Among them freely, but must part
From the green fields and waters clear,
Let me not creep
Into some darkened room and hide
From all that makes the world so bright and dear;
But throw the windows wide
To welcome in the light;
And when I clasp a well-beloved hand,
Let me once more have sight
Of the deep sky and the far smiling land—
Then gently fall on sleep,
And breathe my body back to nature's care,
My spirit out of thee, God of the open air.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Hondo by a vote of 120 to 23 gave the town cow, the can-eating goat, the rooting pig and the pachydermatous burro the rinky dink good and proper. As Brother Fletcher Davis of the Anvil-Herald fervently declares: "So mote it be—amen!"—Crystal City Chronicle.

AFTER "THE GRIP," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other debilitating diseases, your quickest way to get flesh and strength is with Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That gives purity to your blood, plumpness to your body, and puts every function into perfect working order. It makes thoroughly effective every natural means of repairing and nourishing your system. For pale, puny, scrofulous children, nothing approaches it. It builds up completely their flesh, their strength, and their health.

In the most stubborn Scrofulous, Skin or Scalp Diseases, Eczema, Salt-rheum, and every kindred ailment, it effects wonderful cures. Contains no alcohol or harmful drugs. In tablet or liquid form.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take.

We noted sometime ago the appointment of Mr. Fletcher Davis, editor of the Hondo Anvil Herald, as Lecturer for farmers' institutes. We have no personal acquaintance with Mr. Davis, but the fact that he is an old newspaper man is sufficient guarantee that the appointment is a wise one, because whether or not well versed on agricultural subjects, he will be able to give the farmers valuable practical suggestions that will prove highly beneficial, but we believe Mr. Davis is no novice on the subject of practical and scientific farming.—West Texas News.

V. A. CROW

"What shall we plant this year in place of cotton" is the appealing cry going up all over this Southland. It is the cotton farmer's chant by day and his troubled dream at night. It is the question that is cudgeling the brain of every thoughtful man. It concerns every man in the Southland. Yet it is a problem that can only be solved by each individual planter in a manner to fit his individual condition. In a crisis such as now confronts the cotton farmer, man instinctively turns to the first great natural law of self-preservation. Following that law, he will so order the arrangement of his crops as to make his farm self-sustaining. In other words, he will produce as much of his living as possible on his own farm and be as far as possible independent of the need for money crops. How best to do that must be answered according to ones surroundings, condition and facilities for doing things. But the intelligent farmer is going to meet and solve his problem. There may be some wrecks along the way. But as a whole, the farmers are coming out of the present crisis stronger and better off financially than ever for the problem of how best to make a living from his land is going to be solved.

If it is true that "misfortunes seldom come singly," the fact is equally well established that the visits of old Mrs. Fortune likewise often come in clusters. There is, for purpose of illustration, Hon. Hondo Davis, who, not content with gobbling up all the newspapers in his neck o' the woods, has now annexed the job of State farm lecturer. Wish he'd lend us his rabbit foot for a couple of moons.—The Alpine Avalanche.

In a few more days a new state administration will be inaugurated at Austin and the 34th Legislature will assemble in its initial session. This administration is pledged to a business-like conduct of the affairs of state and it is to be sincerely hoped that the spectre of prohibition will not be permitted to mar the pleasant prospect by rearing its grisly front.

Fletcher Davis of the Hondo Anvil Herald goes on the pay roll of the Ferguson administration as a Farmer's lecturer. Mr. Davis has rendered valued services to the Colquitt and Ferguson forces and is thus remembered. He was reared on a farm and has kept in close touch with the farmer all the while and is a hard worker in whatever he undertakes.—Devine News.

COTTON POOL A DISASTER

Fort Worth, Texas—Peter Radford, National Lecturer of the Farmers' Union, when asked by a representative of the press if the farmers of the South would apply for loans under the terms of the $135,000,000 cotton pool, said:

"I do not know of a banker in Texas or elsewhere who is willing to lend money to the farmers at six per cent under the provisions of the pool, and I do not think many farmers would care to qualify for a loan. It is to be regretted that the officers of that movement are not frank enough to admit that the failure of the pool is due to inherent defects of the plan. It has not only failed completely, but it has indirectly cost the Southern cotton producers millions of dollars. I think it can be truthfully said that had the plan never been suggested, several millions of dollars would have been loaned against cotton in the South by many banks who subscribed to the fund in good faith, and naturally, with such a pledge becoming a liability they might be called upon to assume, they did not give consideration to making direct loans as the Southern bankers have always done, and as a result the pool cut off the local money supply and forced the cotton on the market. I have no doubt the promoters acted in good faith, but the movement has been a serious disaster to the South."

THE TEXAS TENANT FARMER.

Texas has more tenant farmers than any other State in the Union.

About 60 per cent of the tenant farmers of Texas move every year.

Only 8,000 of the 220,000 tenant farmers in Texas have not moved during the past ten years.

Only 99,734 or 24 per cent of the farms of Texas are entirely owned by the farmers operating them.

There are 314,263 homeless farmers in Texas, and only 55,000 of them are negroes, leaving 259,000 white farmers that do not own the soil they till or the homes in which they live.

There are 219,575 tenant farmers in Texas, and in addition to this number 28,348 farm land owners rent additional land, making a total of 247,923 farm land renters in this State.

Nearly ten per cent of the tenant farmers in the United States live in Texas, while only five per cent of the nation's farm home owners reside in this State.

In 1900 only 33 per cent of the Texas farmers were tenants, 42 per cent in 1900, 50 per cent in 1910 and 53 per cent in 1910.

Less than eight per cent of the Texas tenant farmers pay cash rental.

During the past twenty years the number of all farms in Texas has increased 23 per cent, while the farms operated by tenants show a gain of 130 per cent. Farm home owners have increased only 50 per cent during this time.

Tenants constitute 53 per cent of the farm operators of Texas and cultivate 47 per cent of our tillable land.

The land and buildings on the tenant farms of Texas are worth only one-half as much as those on the farms operated by owners.

The land operated by Texas tenant farmers is equal in area to the State of Pennsylvania, Indiana or Maine.

Farm tenancy in Texas directly affects 1,500,000 people, which is equal to the entire population of the State of Arkansas, Louisiana or Oklahoma.

All those interested in literary societies, debating club work, or parliamentary procedure, will find a bulletin issued by the University of Texas entitled "School Literary Societies" by Etwin Dabois Shurter, Professor of Oratory, full of helpful suggestions in the matter of preparing debates and conducting meetings according to parliamentary rules. Indeed, on pages 18 and 19, in tabular form, is a complete guide to the chairman of a meeting showing the application of principle rules of parliamentary procedure to the fourteen principal motions. The table is arranged so concisely that a moment's reference enables the chairman to tell whether or not a motion must be recorded, what majority is required for passage, whether or not it is debatable, whether or not it opens the main question to debate, whether it be amended, committed, postponed, reconsidered, laid on the table, moved, or whether it is subject to the previous question. Every chairman of a meeting, unless exceptionally well-qualified by long experience, should have this document before him. The excellent paragraphs deal with Selection and Stating of a Question or Debate; "Collection Material for Debate;" "Analyzing the Position;" "Proof;" "Refutation;" "Detecting Fallacies" and so on.

MOTHERS OF DELICATE CHILDREN

Should Read the Following Letter—Mrs. Slack's Story About Her Child's Recovery Is Entirely Reliable.

Palmyra, Pa.—"Three years ago my little girl had black measles which left her with a chronic cough and so awfully bad you could count all her ribs, and she coughed so much she had no appetite. Nothing we gave her seemed to help her at all until one day Mrs. Neibert told me how much good Vinol had done her little girl, so I decided to try it for my little one, and it has done her so much good she is hungry all the time, her health is gone, she is stouter and more healthy in color and this is the first winter she has been able to play out in the snow coasting and snow-balling without any ill effects."—Mrs. ALFRED SLACK, Palmyra, Pa.

We know Vinol will build up your little ones and make them healthy, strong and robust, therefore we ask friends of every frail and sickly child in this vicinity to try a bottle of Vinol, the delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil.

If we can induce you to try a bottle of Vinol as a body-builder and strengthener for your child, and you do not feel it is all we claim, we will return your money on demand.

Duruy's History of the World

Four splendid cloth volumes, full of portraits, sketches, maps, diagrams

Today is the climax of a hundred years of preparation. Read in this timely, authoritative, complete, AND THE ONLY CONDENSED classic world history—of which over 2,000,000 copies have been sold in France alone—just what has taken place in the inner councils of Europe during the past one hundred years. Read in these entrancing pages how Russia has for years craftily been trying to escape from her darkness—to get a year-round open port, with its economic freedom.

Read how Germany and Austria, fearful of the monster's latent strength, have been trying to checkmate her and how they have pinned all in this last, supreme stake.

The Lesson of the Past

THIS master of the pen shows you the glory that was Greece's and the grandeur that was Rome's. He guides you through the Middle Ages, the picturesque old days of feudalism, chivalry, and chivalrous knighthood, to the glorious history, while Prof. Grosvenor completes in brilliant manner. In the story of the past lie the secrets of today. And you will understand them better when you get the Review of Reviews for a year—for the Review of Reviews will give you a sane interpretation of the events that are taking place with such rapidity. It is not enough to read the daily news—such news as the Review of Reviews gives you—because it rationally depends on a true interpretation of the meaning and the reason why of events. In your mind you must bring order out of chaos—and the Review of Reviews will do it for you.

TRUE SPIRIT OF DAY

Christmas Giving Should Be Prompted by the Heart.

Religion in the Orthodox Sense Not Necessary to Appreciate Fine Qualities of Great Christian Holiday.

By PRUDENCE STANDISH.

NCE more the Christmastide and its beautiful meaning is with the world. Again the shepherds, watching their flocks by night, are sore, afraid at the glory which shines about them. Clothed in blinding light, the angel speaks; the heavenly host that crowds suddenly about him sing of glory in the highest and peace and good will. The wise men who have seen his star in the East, kneel and spread their gifts of gold and myrrh and frankincense without question.

The miracle of 2,000 years ago is still new and glad and lovely, for lo! in all Christendom bells peal and sweet choirs sing the message given by the blinding angel and the crowding host:

"For behold I bring you tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

This is the message of the Christmastide, yet the bigger half of Christendom makes the period the pagan festival it once was at the time of the winter solstice. We give gifts, for sake of the gods of custom and merriment, forgetting entirely that they are for sake of the great spiritual joy "which shall be to all people." The gold and myrrh and frankincense of the heart are withheld—we give gifts because we've got to, and keep our hearts as much closed to the Christmas child as was the inn. We have our own selfish ends to gain, the rich patron to cater to, the friend to appease. We heap little children with dazzling toys, and light the starry lamps of their fir trees because it is the fashion, and we do our small Christmas charities because it would seem mean not to do them.

We have forgotten the joyous and sublime meaning of Christmas. One does not need to be religious in the orthodox sense to appreciate the finer quality of this great festival, for what is known as Christian feeling has come to be a moral obligation at this time—a point of etiquette, in truth, for the heart and mind.

In point of mere etiquette—what the social world thinks on the subject of Christmas gift giving—it is thought bad taste for a person of modest means to give presents of value to others of wealth and influence, for this savors too much like currying to continued favor if the giver is already under obligations. But some knowledge of the helpful friend's existence is necessary, and this may take the form of a pretty Christmas card with an appropriate greeting, or a knot of flowers or winter berries may be sent with a note expressing warm Christmas wishes.

That the servant who has given her bodily strength and heart's best interest to the home must not be forgotten goes without saying; but it is certainly bad form to make the poor servitor's gift an inexpensive trifle when something better can be afforded.

Then what a woeful want of taste it shows for us to defer buying a friend's or sister's present until we have found out what she means to give us, and so make the exchange a quid pro quo. The gift that goes to friend or relative is above all one for love, and it is undoubtedly better taste for the recipient of the simpler gift in the exchange to appear as pleased as if she had received something ten times its value.

But, then, what matters the nature of the gift after all? The spirit is the thing—and does not this silly picture or cushion, so unbefitting to the parlor, mean that the friend or sister has thought of us?

As for the little children, so much are their feelings painfully strained at this time that I would like to write a book on the subject. I beg every mother not to threaten the poor little heart that misbehaves sometimes with the eternal word that "Santa Claus won't come if you do that any more."

The dear kiddie who forgets to be good knows better after a year or two of this harrowing threat, which makes you out a story teller. Meanwhile, there is the little heart staying awake at night with its dreadful anxieties; there are the sudden storms of bitter tears, with all the glory of Christmas sunk in the bottomless pit of absolute sureness that Santa—dear, abused, good old fat gentleman—won't come.

We remember the poor and drop a few pennies gladly for the blind children.

But, why do we do it—why? It is because a wide, sweet star has stopped over a stable in the far East, because the church choirs are singing of peace on earth and good will toward men.

So let us never lose sight of that fact with our gifts, whether our hands tender or receive them; for the heart closed to the deeper significance of Christmas may truly be likened to the inn that held no room. Let us send with each gift some of the heart's true gold and frankincense—bind it with the cord of some memory of Bethlehem. Let us receive each and every one of our gifts as things of great joy.

What I Have Learned About Farming.

For the Anvil Herald.

That is—

1st. Purchase good seed, cotton, corn, or any kind of seed you may want to plant; plant thin; corn should be planted four feet in width (in rows), grains not nearer than 24 inches apart. Cotton about the same distance. After crop is planted harrow well first lengthwise, then crosswise for corn, and after corn gets up four inches harrow lengthwise of the rows; do not be afraid of pulling it up. It will beat any first cultivation. After harrowing cultivate shallow; if dry, the more you plow the dry dust into the cracks the corn will grow, and also you will keep the weeds down. And the principle in farming is to plant good seed early, thin and work it well.

There are long creeds about "how to farm," but the preachers have never farmed an acre in their lives, and it is time that only successful farmers should tell the people how to plow, sow, reap and mow—to conduct a farm as it should be operated.

When the corn ripens, to get good seed tie red strings of rags around the first ears that turn white. Pick those ears first, keep them separate in a box or bin, and from them select you seed corn for the next crop. Also keep the seed from the first bale of cotton raised for the reason that the first seed raised will produce an earlier crop than seed from the last bale ginned. And it is the same with all seeds—the first to ripen will produce the earliest grain or vegetables.
